In the 1970s, Social Progressive Values that began in the 1960s, such as Increasing Political Awareness and Political and Economic Liberty of Women, continued to grow. The Hippie Culture, which started in the Latter Half of the 1960s, waned by the Early 1970s and faded towards the Middle Part of the Decade, which involved Opposition to the Vietnam War, Opposition to Nuclear Weapons, the Advocacy of World Peace, and Hostility to the Authority of Government and Big Business. The Environmentalist Movement began to increase Dramatically in this Period.

It was a Decade defined by both a New Realism and a New Escapism. It was Punk and Glitter, Grit and Glamour, yet these were not so much Opposite Ends of the Creative Spectrum as Part of the Same Deflationary Dynamic...
